OVERVIEW

The CPPAA Clinical Training Program is a three year clinical training in Child and Adolescent Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy.

Intake for this program occurs annually/biannually.

The CPPAA Program includes Clinical Supervision, Infant Observation and Clinical Seminars.

Concurrent Personal Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy is another component of the Training Program.

These components of the training run alongside the Master of Mental Health Science (MMHSc) Child Psychotherapy Stream, offered at Monash University.

The MMHSc is taught by CPPAA members and it (or its equivalent) provides the theoretical component of the Child Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy Training Program.

MMHSc and is offered by Distance Learning.

Students who have had a concurrent Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy and satisfactorily complete all other components of the Training Program will be eligible to apply for membership of the CPPAA.

CLINICAL SUPERVISION

Supervision should be concurrent with the other components of the Training Program and will be a minimum of 300 hours of supervision overall.

Candidates will be required have at least once weekly individual supervision for the duration of the Training Program, with supervisors approved by the CPPAA Training Committee.

Over the three-year period of the Training Program (or beyond this period if necessary), Candidates are required to see at least two training psychotherapy cases: one child and one adolescent, with one in psychotherapy for a minimum frequency of once per week sessions, and one in psychotherapy for a minimum of twice per week sessions. One case is to be seen for two years and the other for one year.

Candidates will also be required to see parent cases (either single parents or couples) on a once per week or fortnightly basis over a two-year period.

Supervision of parent psychotherapy cases will be offered to second and third year students in supervision groups.

INFANT OBSERVATION

A twelve-month Infant Observation Seminar Series is offered in the first year of the CPPAA Training Program. Candidates will each observe a baby and parent/s for an hour per week for at least a year. Trainees will record and report on these observations at a weekly seminar.

The seminar leader assists candidates in exploring a deeper understanding of the emotional development of the infant and the emerging parent infant relationship. At the conclusion of the seminar, candidates will complete a paper on their observations and experience of the Infant Observation.

PERSONAL PSYCHOTHERAPY

Candidates will undertake their own personal psychoanalytic psychotherapy or psychoanalysis with an accredited psychoanalytic psychotherapist or psychoanalyst. Fees are by private arrangement. Since personal psychotherapy is a requirement of the Clinical Training Program it cannot be claimed as a medical expense but is tax deductible as an educational expense.

CPPAA PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT MEETINGS

Accompanying this theoretical program and as an extension to it, the CPPAA offers additional seminars via the Professional Development Program, led by CPPAA members, visiting Psychotherapists, Psychoanalysts and other senior practitioners. Attendance at these additional seminars is a part of the training requirements.
